

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1889.

NO. 102

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Logan Thompson and Tom Fletcher are no longer cronies.
—Green Renner, of this county, has been granted a pension.
—M. Mueller, of Cincinnati, will reopen the Wildlife quarries in a short time.
—The vagrant act should be enforced against some of Mt. Vernon's loafers, of both colors.
—The district convention of the W. C. T. U., will be held at Williamsburg beginning the evening of Feb. 13th and closing the 15th.
—Capt. J. C. Risher, who was here during the year 1877 leasing coal lands for a Pennsylvania company, has just died at Pittsburgh. He had accumulated a big fortune in coal.
—C. C. Williams moved Monday to the Allen property that he purchased a short time since. Dr. Davis has rented the C. W. Adams storehouse and will open a family grocery. Willis Griffin has re-built his storehouse where the old one was recently burned.
—The remains of William Parker were exhumed at Brodhead and a post mortem examination was held. The physicians we are informed decided that death was caused from inflammation of the bowels, and thought his wound had no connection with the immediate cause of his death.
—F. L. Thompson with M. C. Williams and Andy Fish is on a prospecting tour in and around Pineville and Cumberland Gap. G. M. Magee, revenue man from London, was here and hereabouts during the week. Saml. Purcell is in from Richmond. Dr. Jennings was up from Livingston Wednesday.
—PUBLIC SALE.—There will be a public sale of horses, work mules, a herd of Jersey cattle, corn, hogs, bacon, mowing machine, wagon, harness, farming utensils, &c., &c., on Tuesday, February 19th, 1889, at the residence of A. H. Evans, one mile south of Mt. Vernon, Ky. (The C. A. Redd farm.) Terms made known on day of sale. A. H. Evans, W. L. Henderson.

—C. Crooke, of Altamont, was here Sunday. Wm. Moberly, night operator at London, was visiting friends here. Mrs. Dr. Brown, who has been quite low, has slightly improved. Willis Adams has returned from a trip to the South-west. Mrs. B. P. Martin, of Lily, is visiting her mother here. Dr. A. G. Lovell went to Louisville Sunday night. Mrs. J. W. Brown visited relatives at Brodhead this week. Armstead Adams was in from Garrard a few days ago. Mrs. Wm. Stewart is some better.

HUBBLE.

—Messrs. Arvin & Co., the saw mill firm located at C. R. Harris', are now in full blast, with 50,000 feet of first-class lumber in their yard.
—Miss Bettie Tompkins, of Harrodsburg, will commence a subscription school at Bright's school-house about the 1st Monday in February.
—I am told we are to soon have a telephone connection with Danville and Lancaster. If we do, it will bring us in close proximity to two of the greatest commercial cities in the world—New York and Chicago.
—Please tell us what is the matter with the I. J. We don't receive it till one day after date. A number of our Courier-Journal subscribers want to exchange their subscriptions for some popular monthly magazine, as they don't receive it more than two or three times a year.
—The death of Mrs. T. D. Chestnut last week was a great surprise to her family and friends. She had been confined to her bed about a week from childbirth and was thought to be doing as well as any one could in her condition, but at the above mentioned time she asked Mr. C. to raise her up as she thought she wanted to vomit. He did so, but laid her back immediately and she died without a struggle.

—The most interesting feature of our community at present is that of building a turnpike from near the Hanging Fork bridge, on the Danville pike, to Willow Grove school-house on the Stanford and Danville pike. There has been about $2,000 subscribed to this project and perhaps another $1,000 could be had and then if the county court of each county would help a little I think the enterprise could be pushed through to completion; a more important and profitable link of turnpike could not be built anywhere of the same length, I don't think.

—Miss Hattie Robinson left a day or two since for a protracted visit to her sister, Mrs. Lipscomb, at Hopkinsville. Miss McLean, of Garrard, is visiting Mrs. J. L. Engleman this week. Mr. Eph Pennington, of your city, is stopping with S. E. Owsley for a few days. Mrs. S. Dunbar gave a few of her friends a superb dining yesterday. Among the honored guests were General Green Clay Smith, of Mt. Sterling, and Col. Jake Harlan, of Boyle. Bishop Myram Luce has been on the sick list for several days but he does not complain much, as he only claims to be a piece of patch-work now.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Cedar posts for sale. Jos. Ballou.
—May wheat dropped to 97½ at Chicago Tuesday.
—C. T. Sandridge sold to W. M. Rue a combined horse for $150.
—B. F. Engleman sold to D. N. Prewitt 20 head of sheep at 4 cts.
—J. M. Sandridge sold to W. H. Prewitt a nice buggy mare for $200.
—FOR SALE.—Pair of mare mules and a saddle horse. R. E. Barrow.
—Calvin East bought in this county a number of scrub cattle at 2½ cts.
—D. N. Prewitt bought of Gus McCormack a fine work mule for $150.
—A. S. Myers bought of John F. Cash an extra fine mare mule for $225.
—P. P. Nunnally sold to Ed Carter 29 head of 945-pound cattle at 3½ cts.
—Will Baughman sold to William Dodd his fine young gelding for $185.
—J. W. Adams sold to a Boyle county party 10 head of yearling heifers at $17.
—Jeff Jones sold to J. H. McAlister 21 shoats, weight 100 pounds at 4 cts.
—Of the 399 stakes run for on the American turf last year, Kentucky bred horses captured no less than 202.

—A poultry journal insists that newly hatched chickens should not be fed for 36 hours, as nature provides them with sufficient food before they hatch out.
—D. N. Prewitt has bought in the last day or two a lot of yearling heifers at from $16 to $20. He also bought of R. D. Underwood a pair of yearling mules for $170.
—A Lexington land syndicate sold to C. H. Stoll the 69 acres of and known as the Anderson property, a little out of the city limits on East Third street for $40,000, equal to $580 an acre.
—Milton Young, M'Grathiana Stud, has purchased of Dwyer Brothers, Brooklyn, N. Y., the black stallion Pontiac, foaled in 1881 by Pedro Gomez, dam imp. Agenoria, by Adventurer, for $6,000.

—The price of hemp is lower than it has been for a long time, $4 per 112 lbs. being the price offered. Dealers say this decline is owing to the burning out of the large factory of Charles Jacobs, of Cincinnati.
—The range of prices for cattle at Cincinnati is 1½ to 4½ for very common to best shippers; stockers are in demand at 3 to 3½; hogs are higher and are worth from 4 to 5 sheep are firm at 2½ to 5½ and lambs at 4 to 6½ cts.

—The Woodford county tobacco growers endorsed the action of the warehousemen in Louisville in not yielding to the demands of the manufacturers, who are striking directly at the producer, in a convention held at Versailles.
—Within the last week 197 hogs have died of cholera at the distillery of G. G. White, in Paris, and there are 600 more in the pens at the same place. Every remedy is being tried to stop the disease but nothing so far has done any good. As the animals die they are burned.

—The entries to the stakes of the Lexington Association, which closed on the 15th are now in, and in the four events there are 109 nominations as follows: 43 in the Nantura Stakes, for 2-year-old fillies; 30 in Breeders' Stakes, for two-year-old colts and fillies; 21 in Straus Handicap, for all ages, and 15 in Distillers' Stakes, for all ages.

—WINCHESTER COURT.—Very few cattle on the market. One bunch of 15 cattle sold for $3,400; 10 common yearlings $20 per head; 1 pair medium horse mules $247 and 1 pair 3-year-old mare mules $240. At Robert Gay's sale 25 milk cows sold at $25 to $45; 1,200-pound feeding steers at $50; yearling do. at $25; work oxen at $100 to $151 per yoke; work mules $100 to $160; hay $12 to $15 a ton and 300 barrels of corn in shock at $1.85.

—Sun.—The season for horse and jack literature draws on apace and this is to remind those who wish it displayed and printed in the highest style of the art that the Interior Journal is always in the ring, as usual with new cuts and new type. Our engaging business manager, who has been managing editor for six or seven weeks, and still holds forth, will be glad to lay down his pen and relieve the wants of any one suffering for anything in that or any other line of job printing or advertisements.

—Mike H. Haggard, of Scott county, is in the county buying lambs. He has bought quite a number at 5½ cts. for June delivery. Mrs. J. D. Gay sold Monday 15 cattle, weight about 1,450-lb. at $3.40. W. D. Sutherland has rented Morris Renick's place of 300 acres, 100 acres to go in hemp, at $5.50 per acre. C. Priest bought and shipped last year 331 cases, 9,330 dozen eggs, receiving an average of 14½ cents per dozen. At the Metropolitan Stables, Monday, Carithers & Beard bought 10 mules 15 to 16 hands high at $100 to $160. Will Rogers, of Lexington, bought several Southern mules at $85 to $135. Joe Downey bought a pair of 16-hand mules for $300.

—Winchester Democrat.
Wars and rumors of wars do not effect the wonderful cures of Gartner's magic chicken cholera cure. "No cure no pay." Sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mr. Bridges, of Lexington, will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning and night.
—Mr. L. M. Lasley of Stanford, arrived Tuesday with seven horses which he will train at this track.
—Mrs. Agnes Rhinehart died at Pineville at the residence of her son, Joe C. Rhinehart, on Tuesday last. Her remains were brought here Wednesday for burial.
—All persons indebted to the firm of Hutchings & Chadwick will please come forward and settle at once, or their accounts will be placed in the hands of an officer Feb. 1st.

—Mr. B. G. Gover left last week for Atlanta, Ga., with a car-load of mules which he bought in this and adjoining counties. Mrs. Sue Holmes sold to A. Catron, of Rockcastle, one pair of mules for $300. Mr. F. W. Dillon sold to H. Collier, of this place, two pair of No. 1 work mules, price unknown.
—Quite a little excitement prevailed in our town last Wednesday when the fire alarm was heard. The blacksmith shop owned by Ed Koehler was almost in flames, but the fire was soon extinguished. It is quite likely that if this building had burned that all that side of the street would have followed suit.

—Miss Mayme Johnston, who has been the guest of the Misses Stuart left for her home in Stanford, Tuesday. Mr. D. S. Hinman, of Danville, was in town Saturday and Sunday. Miss Lillian Tanner, of McKinney, is the guest of Mrs. Margaret Stephenson. Mr. J. Parrish, of Pineville, was here Saturday on business. Miss Cynthia Carson, of Somerset, was the guest of Mrs. Sophia Carson last week. W. A. Carson, of Louisville, is in town. Mrs. A. A. McKinney, of Stanford, has been visiting Mrs. John Buchanan. Miss Maggie Buchanan returned from Louisville Saturday. Mr. W. R. Dillon has returned from Knoxville. Miss Ida Pettus is visiting friends in Prechensville. Miss Mary Gormley is on the sick list this week.

—The teachers meeting was held in the Baptist church Friday night, the 25th. Despite the rainy evening the house was crowded to its utmost capacity. Quite a number of teachers from a distance were present and the programme was an unusually interesting one. The welcome address was read by Miss Alice Stuart in her usual agreeable manner. Response by K. L. Tanner, of McKinney. Mrs. J. F. Gover, of Stanford, read several essays during the evening, the most noticeable ones being "Fitness for Teaching" and "Waking Up the Mind." Too much cannot be said in praise of these. "Mutual Aid," W. F. McClary. By his deep interest and earnest manner Mr. McClary showed that he was a zealous worker in this good cause. "Influence of the Teacher's Language Upon the Pupil," by N. W. Hughes. Prof. J. N. Ruple, principal of the C. O. high school, was called upon to make a few remarks. He fired away in his inimitable style and made decidedly one of the best speeches of the many speeches of the evening. Last on the programme was a discussion, "How Shall We Save the Bad Boy," by W. F. McClary, N. W. Hughes and Prof. Niles, who brought up the rear by remarking that "he found it quite easy to manage the bad boy, but had never yet learned to manage the good girl." No one present gave him any information on the subject, so it is still open for discussion. During the time this subject was discussed we had the bad boy illustrated to its fullest extent. Was it the small (?) boy slapping the doors in the vestibule? Quite a large number of teachers were present, who did not take part in the exercises.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, Our dear Heavenly Father hath called from our midst our dear sister, Mary Myers, one of our most faithful members of the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Christian church, January 26th, 1889, therefore be it
RESOLVED, That in her death we realize our loss and yet we submit to the will of a Good and Allwise God that doeth all things well. Yet it is a sad pleasure that we pay this last tribute of love and respect to her memory, who was so gentle, modest and generous. Sister, thou art gone, but not forgotten, and the memory of thy good deeds will remain forever in our hearts.

Done by order of the Ladies' Christian Aid Society.

—The engineer allowed the water to get too low in a boiler at Poplar Bluff, Kansas, and it let go, killing three and wounding a dozen persons.

Save That Sweet Girl!

Don't let that beautiful girl fade and droop into invalidism or sink into an early grave for want of timely care at the most critical stage, her life, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will aid in regulating her health and establishing it on a firm basis and may save her years of chronic suffering and consequent unhappiness.

A more pleasant physic
You never will find
Than Pierce's small "Pelllets"
The Purgative kind.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Mrs. Lucinda VanArsdale is reported sick.
—Mr. Wm. Evans sold his farm near Milledgeville to Jos. Coffey, 300 acres at $55.
—J. J. Drye has gone on a trip to Kansas and the town is as dull as a church meeting on business.
—I regret exceedingly that I failed to get to Crab Orchard last week. The people there are royal entertainers.

—Mr. Swain was telegraphed to join his wife, whose adopted mother was thought to be dying at Mayslick.
—As my letter failed to get through on Monday, I take an earlier start to test the practicability of getting in next week.
—Still stagnation in the news market. The sun is smiling this, Wednesday, morning, as if all unconscious of his late remissness.

—Letters have been received from Ed. Williams and Logan Montgomery, who are perambulating the wide West in good health and spirits.
—What is the matter with Prof. Eddy? He makes a flourish over telephone lines to the villages of Harrodsburg, Lancaster and Stanford and not a word about communication with Hustonville.

—Rev. Crawford came from Danville as usual to attend his ministrations at the Presbyterian church, but went out to J. B. McKinney's Saturday night and was prevented by high water from meeting his appointment.

—A small party of young people from this place went to Liberty Friday evening and returned Saturday delighted with the excursion and their entertainment there. They are especially complimentary to the new court-house which they describe in glowing terms.

—J. E. Huffman, of Liberty, sent me a copy of the "Argus, of West America" weekly—printed at Frankfort July 9, 1814. It is an interesting relic of nearly a century ago. In form it differs but little from the weeklies of the present day—a respectable, earnest, dignified news sheet. The paper on which it is printed is not a finished specimen of the art, but the workmanship of the press is quite respectable. The latest news (foreign and domestic) is of course delayed somewhat in transit. The edicts of President Madison—the events occurring at Washington, Boston, New York, &c., are generally obtained two months after date. News from the Peace Commission at Gottenburgh and the British war department at London; touching the sending of Wellington's army to wind up the little disputes in America are included in the same issue. One thing is clearly demonstrated in comparing these ancient waymarks with the records of the present to wit: that the world has moved within the last 100 years. Who can tell, or even surmise what the next century may bring forth?

—A college student at Harrisburg, Pa., bet another student $5 that he could put two regulation billiard balls in his mouth at once. He did it, but when the doctor was called to get them out he had to slit the corners of his mouth nearly back to the ears.
—Miss Florence Brown, of Rushville, Ill., laid her lump of chewing gum on her pillow the other night and went to sleep. When she awoke in the morning the gum was hard and fast in one of her ears, and she suffered grievously for several days before the obstruction was removed.

—The case against Jeff and Joe Henderson, Harvey and Alvis Turner, was called for trial in the circuit court at Harrodsburg Monday, and continued because of the absence of some of the Commonwealth's most important witnesses. Joe Henderson and Harvey Turner were absent also, and their bonds, amounting to $16,000, were declared forfeited. It is said that Joe Henderson intimidated the witnesses for the prosecution before disappearing.—Pineville Messenger.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Begun taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and am now on my feet. It is the finest medicine ever made."—Jesse Middleton, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug-store.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Office of Comptroller of the Currency.

WASHINGTON, DEC. 31, 1888.
Whereas, by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The Lincoln National Bank of Stanford," in the county of Lincoln and State of Kentucky, has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of Banking.

Now therefore I, Jesse D. Abrahams, deputy and acting Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The Lincoln National Bank of Stanford," in the town of Stanford, in the county of Lincoln and State of Kentucky, is authorized to commence the business of Banking as provided in Section fifty-one hundred and sixty-nine of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In testimony whereof, I witness my hand and seal of office this 31st day of December, 1888.

PUBLIC SALE.

OF—
VALUABLE COAL AND TIMBER LANDS

—ON—
Wednesday, Feb. 6, 1889,

at 10 o'clock, A. M., at the town of

will be sold to the highest bidder, at public auction, about 100 acres of valuable Coal and Timber Lands. This is one of the most valuable tracts of land in this region, so celebrated for its coal and timber. The lands surrounding it are now being worked, and the product finds a fine market being on the line of the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. railroad, and in direct connection with the coal fields of the West. The lowest estimate made is 700 acres of solid coal of good workable thickness in this tract with plenty of fine timber for mining purposes. Part of this land is now being worked and produces a coal of very superior quality which commands ready sale and good returns.

This sale offers a fine opportunity to parties looking either for investment for the future or desiring to develop the land at once.
Pittsburgh is immediately on the line of the Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. and about midway between Louisville and Knoxville, and has for many years been an important coal-producing district.
Parties desiring to inspect the land before day of sale can do so by applying either to Geo. Givens or Wm. McNell, at Pittsburgh.
Sale positive and made to close a partnership.
TERMS.—One-third cash in hand, balance in equal payments of 12 and 18 months from day of sale. Purchaser to execute bonds with good security, bearing 6 per cent interest from day of sale; lien retained for deferred payments.

THERE is an alarming increase of divorce suits in this State. The docket here is pretty full of them, there are 14 on the Warren circuit court docket and 13 in Caldwell county, while nearly every day the courts of Louisville are called upon to grant decrees. So lax has the action of judges been in the matter that a couple in Louisville actually asked to be legally separated because they were simply tired of each other; at least that was about the purport of their petition. In refusing to grant it Judge Toney laid down this admirable opinion: There are three parties to every marriage contract—the contracting parties, society and the State. It is a contract that cannot be dissolved by consent of the parties. The State regards the inviolability of the marriage contract as the chief support of all social order, and pronounces it indissoluble except for the causes enumerated in the statute. It is the duty of the courts to protect society by vindicating the indissolubility of the marriage contract and refusing divorces except and only in those cases where the statutory grounds for the annulment of the relation are distinctly alleged and clearly proved. Any other judicial course is contrary to law and tends to undermine the very foundation of our social fabric. It seems that the social heresy is gaining converts that marriage is a mere matter of convenience and not binding upon the parties save during their mutual pleasure—a kind of legal partnership affecting no one except the parties to it, and dissoluble upon notice. This court will not give aid and comfort to such a demoralizing heresy.

BREER, BOSLEY must excuse us. The paragraph is so plain that a wayfaring man though a fool could not err therein. All we agree to do is to furnish the news dressed up in intelligible shape. We do not propose to publish a diagram along with every article for the benefit of those whose minds are too much lacking to understand a simple proposition. But as the editor of the Sun is a pretty clever fellow, we will state for his benefit that John Shirtmaker, who bought and paid for it, has been given a receipt in full by Harrison's turning over the Postoffice Department to him during his administration. Mr. Shirtmaker may be a good man and a christian gentleman, as the Sun claims, but he should not hunger after the flesh-pots of politics, if he would keep himself unspotted from the world, nor try to advertise his "cheap clothing" at the expense of the American people.

ALL newspaper readers will remember the noted breach of promise suit against old man Arbuckle, of coffee fame, by Miss Clara Campbell, because of the many love epistles that were introduced. The verdict was $45,000 damages and the supreme court of New York has just decided that it is not too much, consequently "Baby Bunting" will have to walk up and pay his "Bunnie" that snug little fortune, which will enable her to marry some other fellow, who can appreciate her tender, loving nature more than the coffee man did.

A CALL has been made for the ex-Confederate soldiers of the State to meet at Lexington Feb. 21st, to organize a Confederate Veterans' Association, the duty of which will be to obtain funds to provide for destitute soldiers, their widows and orphans. Arrangements will also be made for obtaining a complete roster of all Kentuckians who followed the Lost Cause, with war record of each, and later facts of prominence in his life. The meeting should be attended by every Confederate able to get to it.

THE caucus of the democratic members of the West Virginia Legislature nominated Senator Kenna by a two-thirds vote, but as one alleged democrat refused to take part and three others refused to support the nominee, we fear that the party will lose its chance and let a republican in. It will take the vote of every democrat to elect Kenna, while the defection of a single man will give the prize to Goff.

THE Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette has been counting noses in Congress and finds that there are 84 Senators and Representatives who proclaim their connection with the Southern Confederacy, while there are others who do not mention the matter in their records. This is indeed a terrible state of affairs in a free country. The field marshal will no doubt remedy it when Harrison ascends the throne.

OVER 300 presidential nominations are tied up in the partisan Senate, which will refuse to act upon them and thereby give Harrison an earlier chance. The victors are satisfied that the spoils belong to them and they are not going to wait four years to claim them. The failure to act on the nominations is a mean and measly use of power, however, that none but a radical would be guilty of.

MR. CLEVELAND is always right. He says he would rather hear a few simple ballads properly sung than any opera ever written. So had we and so had most everybody else if the female singers would disrobe for the occasion as they often do in the opera business.

AFTER a careful investigation of the Samoan matter, Secretary Bayard finds that Germany has given this country no cause to believe that our flag has not been insulted or American property destroyed and that the whole question is: shall the country assert the independence of Samoa by force of arms if need be against German aggression? As this involves the question of peace or war, the determination of which resides with Congress the whole subject has been referred to that body, the President not feeling authorized to take further steps which might precipitate hostilities. And the President and his Secretary are right, as usual.

J. M. CLAYTON, who was there taking evidence in his contest for the seat of C. R. Breckinridge in the 51st Congress, was assassinated at Plummersville, Ark., Tuesday night by a cowardly fiend who filled him full of buckshot as he sat in his room. The shot was from the street and was fired through the window. The murder has caused intense excitement, the citizens meeting and expressing the strongest condemnation of the act. The legislature will offer a reward of $5,000 for the assassin.

ALTHOUGH it has one of the fastest and best news presses in the South, the Courier-Journal finds that to keep up with its large and ever increasing business, it must discard it for faster. So it has ordered two Improved Hoe presses, each with a running capacity of 24,000 complete papers per hour for two, four, six, eight, ten or twelve pages, and 12,000 per hour for 16, 20 or 24 pages, all delivered from the press folded, pasted and counted. They will cost $37,500 each.

IT is sent out from Lexington, the great centre of poker playing, that a three-handed game was played there last week in which each man had up $5,000, making the pot worth $18,000, or $12,000 to the winner. The correspondent doesn't give names with his tale, nor is his statement affidavied or corroborated, so we give it for what is worth—which is much less than the value of the imaginary pot.

THE Ways and Means Committee reports that it would take four months to go over the Senate bill carefully, so it will attempt nothing but a general overhauling and report by Feb. 15th. A member of the committee, who has examined the monstrosity, says the bill increases the revenue $13,000,000 instead of reducing it. As has been before remarked it will not become a law.

AFTER 44 days of confinement to our room, much of it spent in excruciating pain, it is a privilege to be able to get out again, which only those who have experienced it can appreciate. We have but little use of the broken leg yet, but can "skin" around pretty lively on Bro. Spotswood's crutches and if the "devil" doesn't trip us up again we will soon be right side up with ease.

THE chairman of the republican committee in Kanawha county, W. Va., has been arrested and taken to the U. S. court at Parkersburg for buying a man's vote for $2 and all the whisky he could drink. It is said that the republicans of that State out Herodotus the Indiana Herods in their mad fight for votes last November.

THE arrival of Nellie Grant Sartoris on a visit to her mother recalls the sensational stories about her English husband's cruelty to her, which have long since proved to be miserable fabrications. She is very happily married and a dispatch says she looks as young as she did when she was the belle of the White House.

IT is stated that Blocks-of-Five Dudley wants to be commissioner of patents. As Harrison has shown by his selection of John Shirtmaker for a place in his cabinet that he intends to reward the faithful, the notorious vote buyer will no doubt be able to read his title clear to the object of his ambition.

IN common with everyone who knows the lovable pair, we sincerely sympathize with Mr. J. M. Richardson, editor of the Glasgow Times, and wife in the great misfortune that has befallen them: Their little son, Jimmie, was horribly and fatally burned Tuesday by his night clothes catching fire.

IF City Judge Thompson continues this sort of thing Louisville will soon be given the cold shoulder by that miserable specimen of the genus homo—the tramp. There were 28 before him Tuesday and 25 of them are now doing from 20 to 90 days' time in the workhouse.

THE Frankfort Capital has changed its publication day to Tuesday in order to get a prompter mail delivery. Col. Johnson promises to devote every spare moment to it, which is assurance that he will make it the model paper.

AS EMMETT LOGAN would say, to-morrow is Arcionys Monax day. All other signs and predictions having failed, the eyes of the world turn with confidence to this great and important event.

THE Tennessee Legislature refused to make swearing a misdemeanor and the Courier-Journal thinks this is hardly the year when democrats should be expected to enact such legislation.

JINGO BLAINE, who always had the dead wood on the leading place in Harrison's cabinet or anything else he wants, is already outlining his "foreign policy."

WE received a beautiful pair of slippers Wednesday, which some fair but unknown friend was kind enough to make and send us. It is a rule of this printing office to pay no attention to anonymous communications, but we have never yet said we would refuse to accept "anonymous" slippers, though we would be glad if our gentle benefactress would send her name, "not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith," as the papers are wont to say. We are unfeignedly thankful for the donation and if the donor will make known her identity she will hear of something to her advantage.

WE learn from the Owensboro Inquirer that Mr. E. G. Logan, of the Louisville Times, has the manuscript of an historical novel left by the late Wallace Grinnell, which he will get a syndicate of Kentucky newspapers to publish, the proceeds to go to his widow, who is left in straightened circumstances, in fact she had absolutely nothing after paying his burial expenses. The press will no doubt be glad to contribute in this way to the memory of one who while improvident, was an ornament to the profession he loved so dearly.

IN the First Indiana District a Congressman was elected Tuesday to fill out the unexpired term of Gov. Hovey, and strange to say Posey, the republican who was defeated by Judge Barrett in November, was elected over him this time by a majority of fully 500. As Posey intended to contest Barrett's seat, he will now have apparently pretty good grounds to do so on. The cause of the change is laid to republican organization and democratic apathy.

IT was said that Senator Blackburn had rendered himself so unpopular at home by his failure to help his friends that even his neighbors were longing to see him shelled next time. But it seems to have been a weak invention of the enemy, as he was warmly and heartily endorsed by the democracy of Woodford this week. Joe is going to be a hard man to down, but Gov. McCreary can do it for him if he sets his head to it.

AT the request of the Hungarian government American Consul Black has been recalled for writing a letter to a New York Hungarian paper, in which he advocated a protective tariff and argued against free trade. He had evidently not heard of the Sackville West incident.

COL. COLGAN, of the Pineville Messenger, makes an earnest appeal for law and order, and for courts that will make the law a terror to evil-doers, instead of permitting them to go Scott free, or letting their trials prove worse than farces.

—Practical jokers caught a man and hung him to the hoisting rope of a steam derrick at Covington and turned on steam. It was very funny indeed till on taking him down it was found that he was fatally injured. That night he lay a corpse and the two jokers paced a cell in jail gounded by the awful thought of having the blood of a human being on their hands.

—The wire cable that held a 1,400 pound weight to the clock in the tower of the Paris Court-house broke while being wound up, precipitating the weight through three floors to the hallway of the second floor, where the deputy jailer, engaged in winding the clock, narrowly escaped a horrible death. The damage to the building and clock will reach over $800.

PERSONAL POINTS.

JAMES C. REED went to Louisville Wednesday.

JUDGE J. W. ALCOCK went to Louisville yesterday.

CAPT. SMITH IRWIN and wife are in Louisville this week.

MR. ED ROWLAND, the prince of drummers, was in town this week.

MR. J. P. BAILEY is spending a few days with friends at Hustonville.

MR. J. A. HIGGINS, of Richmond, is here to see his uncle, Mr. J. M. McRoberts, Sr.

MR. L. B. GIVENS, now engaged in the livery business at Harrodsburg, was here yesterday.

MISS LULA DOONES, who has been visiting the Misses Mock, has returned to her home at Crab Orchard.

MISS MAGGIE McROBERTS, of Danville, is attending the bedside of her uncle, Mr. John M. McRoberts, Sr.

The editor was down town yesterday for the first time in 44 days, but he is far from being all right yet.

MR. S. L. POWERS and his handsome wife arrived on the K. C. last night and have taken rooms at the Portman House.

DR. O. H. McROBERTS, who has been confined to his room for a month by illness, is, we are glad to say, well enough to be out.

MISS BELLE BASCOMB, who has been visiting relatives here for the last two months, left yesterday for her home at Independence, Mo.

JOHN A. McROBERTS arrived Wednesday night to see his uncle, Mr. John M. McRoberts, Sr., who at last accounts yesterday was thought to be a little better.

MISS GEO. D. BURETT and children, of Lancaster, passed through here yesterday en route to O'neale, to join her husband. They were accompanied this far by Mr. J. W. Miller.

MR. J. SAM OWSELEY, Jr., left yesterday for Fort Worth, Texas, where he will make his home and practice his profession, law. We heartily commend him to the good people of that place, who will be the gainers of this splendid young gentleman, whom we reluctantly give up.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Go and see the ladies' ready-made underwear at Severance & Son's.

This is positively the last week I can let my customers run. I must have money so please come in and settle with me and avoid extra trouble and expense. H. C. Rupley.

The Gypsies will take possession of the Opera House Tuesday night and give the music of their own sunny land. It will pay you to hear them and to see funny John Thomas.

I HAVE rented the grist mill near the Stanford Woolen Mills and will be glad to serve my friends who wish custom grinding done. My days for custom grinding are Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. J. B. Higgins.

THE Kanya Geza Hungarian Gypsy Quartette are fine musicians, and their music is unique and impressive.—Boston Herald. They will be at Walton's Opera House next Tuesday night. Lovers of music should be out in full force.

The Musicals at the College to-night promises to be a delightful entertainment. The performance will be under the management and will be assisted by that efficient musician, Miss Dollie Williams, which is an assurance that it will be a musical treat.

FRESH fruits of every kind always on hand at Zimmer's.

PAY ATTENTION.—I will open my store on next Monday, the 28th. All customers indebted to me will please call and settle. I need the money and am bound to have it. Kate Dudderar.

MR. L. M. LASLEY left Tuesday for his track at Crab Orchard taking with him his string of racers as well as five promising youngsters belonging to Mr. S. H. Baughman. He will remain there till the races begin, training and exercising them, at which time he will make a circuit with them and we hope prove by the stakes his horses win the good handle of racers he is.

OVER our underground wires comes the news that our most fashionable young ladies are agitating the question of dressing in opera style to attend the Hungarian Gypsy Quartette entertainment Tuesday night next. Any change, leaving off the irrepressible "umbrella looking" hat, even if it were to be substituted by a sun-bonnet, would be for the better and we hope the ladies will do as our underground special says there is a probability of their doing.

THE present absorbing theme of the Young America is mind-reading and after perusing the graphic description the Courier-Journal gave of the noted one at Louisville, our boys, who tackle most everything that comes along, held a secret meeting to test their own ability at it. Whether it takes a person without a mind or one blessed with a good one to read another's mind, we do not know, but in either case we are sure that a number of experts at the business could be gathered from the assembly whose meetings are always held with locked doors. Stanford may yet distinguish herself by sending out a mind-reader, the like of which the world has never before seen.

NEW FIRM.—Messrs. F. L. Thompson and A. J. Fish, of Mt. Vernon, have purchased of Mr. D. Klass, his stock of goods, amounting to about $3,000, and will in all probability open in Mr. Klass' old store-room in a couple of weeks. In the meantime, however, they will visit Beattyville and other mountain towns to decide whether they can do better at those places than to come to this city. We are in hopes that a glance at that portion of the country will be at once convincing that Stanford is the place for them. They are both good men and we should be glad to have them take the place of that clever gentleman and merchant, Mr. Klass, who seems determined to leave us.

WHILE society people have been "at home" to their friends for the past few weeks, it has evidently crept into the mind of the "tramp" printer that we are "at home" to them. Hardly a day has passed for that length of time, but what we have been called upon by one of that class of individuals and on Tuesday two honored(?) our sanctum. It is hard to turn a cold shoulder to the pleadings of the poor creatures and it is bankrupting to give to them all, hence we stand between the devil and fire, (printer and bankrupt) a dilemma which in the future we shall keep clear of by turning the door key as soon as we hear there is a man in town hunting the printing office.

THE auction of S. L. Powers & Co. is still a joy forever to the ladies who crowd the store during the afternoon sales. It is rather amusing to see them bid and if something is offered that two or more are anxious for, they set their mouths to working and then the fun begins. It is said that a certain married lady was forced by those near her to stop bidding on an article of which she was the sole buyer. Her reason for running it up was that she feared a colored woman who was not far off would bid against her and that she had rather live the balance of her life in the poor-house than be outdone by a darkey. It is the next thing to an impossibility to stop a woman when she takes a mind to do a thing.

IT looks like we are again to have a woolen mill. Mr. Howell, a resident of Kansas, who bought the old Stanford Woolen Mills some time ago, writes to a friend that he will be here in the spring and decide whether he will use the site to erect a large mill or build several nice dwelling houses. Either will help the appearance as well as be beneficial to Stanford's business interests and we extend to him a hearty welcome to become one of us. With a few more wide-awake business men we would in a short time have every industry represented, and besides making this a better business point capitalists would begin to invest here, which would necessarily enhance property, making the holder grow rich, without an output of either money or labor.

THE executors will sell the storeroom belonging to the Baughman estate, now occupied by R. Zimmer, at auction Monday.

THE cold snap ran the mercury down below 20°, but it was of such short duration and the water was so flush that no ice of consequence was formed. We've got to have a machine to make it next summer, if we get any ice to cool our parched tongues.

ON Monday, Feb. 4th, the last great auction sale of dry-goods, clothing, shoes &c., will occur at Powers' Great Bargain Store. Sale begins at 10 a. m. and continues all day. It is a great chance for cash buyers to save enormously in outlay. Don't miss it.

THE only unconstructed, unrepentant, red-hot rebel left in Lincoln county is dead. Martin Ross, one of the most original and picturesque men of his day, went hence Tuesday. A fitting tribute to his memory by a friend appears elsewhere in this issue.

AT 10:30 yesterday morning an order to hoist the cold wave signal was received, with the prediction that the temperature would fall 20 degrees by this morning. It was bright and sunny at the time with no indications of a change in the pleasant atmosphere.

POWERS' GREAT CLEARANCE AUCTION SALE.—Which began on Saturday will continue all week and on Monday, 4th, court day. This is probably the greatest sacrifice of goods that has ever occurred in Stanford. Many articles of the most staple value do not bring 25 cents on the dollar. The store-room is crowded, mainly with ladies, each afternoon and a perfect jam at night. The great carpet auction will occur on Thursday, 31st, every piece in the house to go into the sale. This sale is like finding money in the street to buyers.

LUNATIC.—Mrs. Lucretia Baer, daughter of the late John Hewes, was tried before Judge Varnon and a jury yesterday and declared insane. Up to some six years ago Mrs. Baer, we are told, possessed a very bright mind, but a fall, which caused her to receive a very severe stroke on the back, of her head has caused her to be subject to raving spells. She was in the asylum twice while she lived in Ohio, but each time, after a few months' confinement she regained her senses sufficiently to be discharged. She will be taken to the asylum at Lexington.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—W. H. York, of Indiana, and Miss Minnie B. Baugh, grand-daughter of Henderson Baugh, were married at Mr. Baugh's last night.

—William Moore and Miss Alice Payne obtained license and were married yesterday at Mr. A. C. Newland's near Walnut Flat. The groom had just reached his majority, while the bride was just 18.

—The Richmond Register contains an account of the marriage of Miss Grace Million, a little beauty of that place, who is well known here, to Mr. Allen Yelton of the same city, several days ago. Here's to the young couple, wishing them a long life, full of prosperity and happiness.

—Sheriff J. H. Pearl, of Laurel, and Miss Cora Pigg, daughter of a prominent farmer of Madison county, were married in Jeffersonville Tuesday. The Courier-Journal says: "For some reason the parents objected to Mr. Pearl's suit for their daughter's hand, although the gentleman is highly esteemed by his entire section. Miss Pigg had a sister, Mrs. Parsley, residing at London, and was on a visit to her when the elopement occurred. There was an understanding, and Monday night Mr. Pearl and Miss Pigg, accompanied by Messrs. Charles M. Randall and T. Moren and Miss Dora Parsley, boarded the midnight train and came to this city. Arriving here the party crossed the river and the ceremony was soon performed. They then returned to Alexander's Hotel, where they will remain several days." Mr. Pearl is an excellent and popular gentleman and his bride is said to be as lovely as she is pretty and accomplished.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—The Advocate says that Mr. Henry Yerkes, brother of John W. Yerkes, was run over by a train at Coal Creek, Tenn., where he and his large family lived, and had both of his legs cut off near the body, dying from the effects in a few hours. Our sincere condolence is extended to the bereaved ones in their terrible loss.

—Mr. W. Scott Glore, one of the most active and successful of Louisville's business men, died Wednesday.

—A French doctor at New Orleans raped and murdered a girl and then saved his neck from the gallows by hanging himself.

—Four men engaged in surface mining are said to have found $40,000 worth of the stuff during the present winter in Wayne county, W. Va.

—Patrick Bryan, father of Lt. Gov. Bryan, died at Nashville, aged 70. He lived in Bourbon county, and was on a visit to his son, Senator Bryan.

—Controller Treholm has tendered his resignation to take the presidency of the American Surety Co., of New York, but the President will not accept it.

—At Walnut Springs, Tex., a young married couple were found dead in bed, and it is supposed that the husband killed his wife and then himself.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. W. H. Williams will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and night.

—Rev. Dr. Joseph Parker proposes to have a preaching service at which smoking will be allowed.

—Rev. Boiling, of Middleburg, will organize a Baptist church at Pineville, the 4th Sunday in this month.

—Rev. I. S. McElroy, of Mt. Sterling, will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

—A letter from Bro. Barnes, received too late for this issue, asks his correspondents to address him till further notice at Punta Gorda, Fla.

—Rev. G. W. Perryman has accepted the call of the Baptist church at Newport, of which Rev. R. B. Mahoney resigned and will take pastoral charge March 1st.

—Moody is waking up the sinners in San Francisco. The house he preaches in seats 6,000 and the other night when he asked those who were concerned about their souls to meet him in the inquiry room, fully 3,000 tried to press in.

—On the death of her husband Talmage wrote to Emma Abbott: "Do not allow your sorrow to hush your marvelous power over song. You will be able to sing with more effect than ever before. 'Nearer my God to Thee, e'en though it be a cross that raiseth me.'"

Constipation

Doctors' prompt treatment. The remedy of neglect may be serious. Avoid all harsh and drastic purgatives, the tendency of which is to weaken the bowels. The best remedy is Ayer's Pills. Being purely vegetable, their action is prompt and their effect always beneficial. They are an admirable Liver and After-dinner pill, and everywhere endorsed by the profession.

"Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."—Dr. I. E. Fowler, Bridgeport, Conn.

"I can recommend Ayer's Pills above all others, having long proved their value as a cathartic for myself and family."—J. T. Hess, Leithsville, Pa.

"For several years Ayer's Pills have been used in my family. We find them an for constipation and indigestion, and are never without them in the house."—Moses Grenier, Lowell, Mass.

"I have used Ayer's Pills, for liver troubles and indigestion, during many years, and have always found them prompt and efficient in their action."—L. S. Smith, Utica, N. Y.

"I suffer from constipation which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared it would cause a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills effected a complete cure."—D. Burke, Saginaw, Me.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and have found them an invaluable family medicine. I know of no better remedy for liver troubles, and have always found them a prompt cure for dyspepsia."—James Quinn, 30 Middle St., Hartford, Conn.

"Having been troubled with constipation, which seems inevitable with persons of sedentary habits, I have tried Ayer's Pills, hoping for relief. I am glad to say that they have served me better than any other medicine. I arrive at this conclusion only after a faithful trial of their merits."—Samuel T. Jones, Oak St., Boston, Mass.

DEATH OF MARTIN ROSS,

One of The Most Remarkable Men That Ever Lived in The County.

At 4 p. m. January 29th, 1889, the "worn-out feller" that held the spirit of Martin Ross were broken and the soul took its flight to the God who made it. Martin Ross was born April 17, 1817, and was raised in Adair county, Ky. When 17 years of age he moved to Arkansas and remained 14 years, then returned to Kentucky and lived in Lincoln county most of the time, about 22 years. On the 4th of June, 1850, Mr. Ross married Miss McClure, sister of Mr. Chris. McClure, who blessed his life with three living children, who are now grown, married and prosperous. The deceased was born a Jeffersonian democrat and so lived all his life. During the last presidential campaign he made several grand speeches in behalf of Grover Cleveland and Allen G. Thurman and the democracy, but since the election has never seen a well day. Mr. Ross' neighbors testify with much force that he lived an industrious, active, economical and honorable life, ever ready to help those in trouble; that no poor person ever left his house unfavored, when it was in his power to render help. He owed no man a cent; had a competency; left his property to his wife during her life then to his children.

Mr. Ross lived as he believed, viz that an "honest man was the noblest work of God." "Owe no man anything, except to love thy neighbor as thyself," "thou shalt have all the christian virtues, without charity you are as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals." He was an honest man, an independent thinker, fearlessly and tenaciously held to his views until honestly convinced of his error; though, as other men, he had his faults and peculiarities, and was mindful of his defects, and like Henry Clay, would "rather be right than be President." Mr. Ross joined the Baptist church at Crab Orchard, Ky., in 1871, and has lived a consistent christian life. Several hours before his death he called to him his wife and told her of some credits due some of the poor people near him, that he had no memorandum, "but do them right." Death had no terrors for him. He was 73 years old; said he "had lived the allotted time, three-score-and-ten; that he trusted a good God and a God of love; wanted no funeral nor display over his remains." The poor of his neighborhood visited him daily, assisted in nursing and hoped that he might be spared a few more years in this life. Many were the tears they shed over their best friend, as he was passing away to live again. He was a hero in death. "Like a soldier he pulled the drapery of his couch around him and lay down peacefully to sleep."

To a christian man like this death has no sting; the grave no victory. "The golden band is shattered, the silver cord broken." The "spirit departed, with no good-bye, but in a fairer clime will say good morning."

How TO FORGET SORROW.—A druggist recently received a visit from a lantern-jawed, hollow-eyed man, who asked in cadaverous tones if he could give him any remedy that would drive away night-mare-like care that was preying upon his health. The man of drugs nodded and compounded a mixture of quinine, rhubarb, wormwood and opium salts, with a dash of castor oil, and offered it to the despairing patient, who apathetically gulped it down. History avers that for six months he could not think of anything except new schemes for getting the taste out of his mouth.—British and Colonial Druggist.

Card of Thanks.

Through the INTERIOR I wish to thank the people of Crab Orchard for their kindness to our dear Katie during her illness, and especially Dr. Pettus for their attention and kindness, and her Aunt Kate Magee for her watchful care the last night of her life. May the Giver of all good gifts abundantly bless each and all of you, is the prayer of her sorrowing mother, BETTIE HOLMAN.

Crab Orchard, Jan. 29th, 1889.

"I adopted that boy," he said, with the tears running down his face. "I took him out of the work-house when he was a lad, and I kept him and fed him for nine years, and he's paid me back by running off with my wife, Gentlemen," he continued, wiping his face, "I'll stand you a bottle of wine. You don't meet with gratitude in this world, but a kind act is sure to bring its own reward. I've sent him a check for $500."

Mr. Myser—Now that all is over between us, Miss Glibton, I presume it might not be out of place to request a return of the baubles that I lavished on you the delirium of a misplaced affection.

Miss Glibton—With pleasure, sir; here they are. Will you please give me a receipt in full.—Buffalo Courier.

From seven Congresses Miss Anthony has demanded the ballot for woman. The ballot for woman means Anthony herself in Congress. And what kind of a Congressman would she be? What interest would she ever take in a pretty Treasury girl?—Commercial.

Indian agents who have had the opportunity to study the red man's domestic life say that neither male nor female is capable of feeling the sentiment of love. A buck marries to have a slave; a squaw to have a lodge.

"Then this is your final answer, Miss Stubbs?"

"My final answer."

"Nothing can move you?"

"Nothing."

"Then my life will be a lonely one and my fate a harsh one, for my uncle with whom I lived has just died and left me—"

"Just died?"

"Yes, and left me—"

"That fact somewhat alters the case, Henry. I cannot be harsh to one who sustained such recent bereavement. If I could believe that you are sincere—"

"Sincere! Oh, Miss Stubbs!"

"You have certainly made an impression on my heart. Give me time to think of it."

"How long?"

"After all, why think of it? Henry, I am yours."

Oh! Genevieve!

"Do not squeeze me so hard, Henry. Your poor uncle! Was he long ill?"

"Three days."

"It is too bad! You say he has left you—"

"Yes, he has left me."

"How much?"

"How much? I said he left me. He had nothing else to leave. I am alone in the world now, homeless, penniless, but with you by my side—Gracious, she's fainted!"—New York Sun.

The Songs My Mother Sung.

I hear the songs they sing to-day,
But never one is sweet
As those my mother sang to me
When sitting at her feet
My thoughts go back to childhood years,
When hope and I were young
And as of old I hear to-day
The songs my mother sung.

At twilight's hour I often dream
I am a child once more;
I seek the house where I was born,
I pass the open door.
There mother rocks beside the hearth,
Her tale ones among,
And life forgets its cares to hear
The songs my mother sung.

Oh, long the grass has grown above
That loving mother's face,
But still in faithful hearts she keeps
Her old, her dear old place.
No other songs can be so sweet
As those we heard when young,
When sitting at our mother's knee—
The songs our mother sung.

SWEET CIDER ALL THE YEAR.—Mr. Elzey, living near Bardwell, in Carlisle, Ky., has a splendid apple orchard, and, as an experiment, a few years ago had a cistern dug 18 feet deep and 9 in diameter, cemented thoroughly, making a cistern which holds several hundred barrels. He then arranged a trough from his cistern mill to the cistern, continuing the manufacture of cider till the cistern was full. This kept nice and sweet all the year. When he wanted cider he would work the pump. If an order for a barrel he soon pumped it. He keeps sweet cider all the year and his cistern never goes dry.—Clinton Democrat.

HE'S THE MAN.—A recent issue of the INTERIOR JOURNAL contained a very urgent call for our townsman and able lawyer, R. C. Warren, to become a candidate to represent this county in the next General Assembly. He is the man for the place. A body of men who know why they have been sent to Frankfort, and what to do after they get there, is something that Kentucky has long been in need of. Men that would overhaul and sweep out the trashy work of the last ten years would do a favor that the people would never forget.—Stanford cor. Danville Advocate.

RICHMOND.—The Assessor's report shows that the sum total of Madison county's wealth is $7,864,990. This is a falling off of $89,170. C. L. Seary has resigned, as postmaster at Waco, and has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Nineteen shares of Madison National Bank stock sold at $201 to $204.60.—Climax.

Ex-Congressman John S. Wise, of Virginia, was recently asked if he thought Mahone would get a Cabinet position. Throwing up his hands in holy horror, as if such a thing were impossible, Wise replied: "When Mahone gets into Harrison's Cabinet you'll find me posing as the Goddess of Liberty among was figures, but not before."

"Anantha," said the old lady from the head of the stairs, "what does that young fellow mean by staying so late?" "Excuse me one moment Mr. Herring," said Anantha; and she closed the parlor door softly and whispered hoarsely up the stairs: "I think he means business, ma; you go to bed."

Mr. Chessman, a wealthy resident of Etta, Tenn., who is afflicted with a bronchial trouble, is compelled to sing, asleep or awake, to keep from smothering. His voice can be heard in the stillness of the night floating out upon the air in musical cadences.

Anxious Mother.—"Has Mr. Bashful proposed yet?"

Daughter—"Not exactly; but last evening, when I was holding little Dick on my lap, Mr. Bashful went to the piano and sang: 'Would I were a boy again.'"

To cure an ingrowing toe-nail heat a bit of nutton tallow hot in a spoon and pour on the "bad place." The soreness disappears and in a few days the edge of the nail can be cut as usual.

The Germans have a great deal of territory, but they want Samoa.—Boston Bulletin.

Ask For Ayer's

Sarsaparilla, and be sure you get it, when you want the best blood-purifier. With its forty years of unexampled success in the cure of Blood Diseases, you can make no mistake in preferring Ayer's Sarsaparilla to any other. The fore-runner of modern blood medicines, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is still the most popular, being in greater demand than all others combined.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is selling faster than ever before. I never hesitate to recommend it."—George W. Whitman, Druggist, Albany, Ind.

"I am safe in saying that my sales of Ayer's Sarsaparilla far exceed those of any other, and it gives thorough satisfaction."—L. H. Bush, Des Moines, Iowa.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills are the best selling medicines in my store. I can recommend them conscientiously."—T. Bickhaus, Pharmacist, Rowland, Ill.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"I have sold your medicines for the last seventeen years, and always keep them in stock, as they are staples. There is nothing so good for the youthful blood" as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—R. L. Parker, Fox Lake, Wis.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I have in stock. I recommend it, or, as the Doctors say, 'I prescribe it over the counter.' It never fails to meet the cases for which I recommend it, even where the doctors' prescriptions have been of no avail."—C. F. Cathoun, Monmouth, Kansas.
